

The Language of Light is the ethereal language from the tradition of the Mayans and Aztecs and is also called the Language of our energy field, also called Aura.

It is based on the knowledge of the primal language of creation, in conjunction with the light spectrum and coordinated in a functional order. (These colours of Light are the true building blocks of our reality).

Everything that corresponds to us, is in resonance, is magnetically attracted, everything else does not reach us because it is on a different wavelength.

Unconscious programming

In our lives, we are shaped by thoughts, experiences, beliefs, patterns and traumas. All this is embedded in the cells of our body and in our Aura, so similar experiences are attracted to us like a magnet.

For example, if the (sub)conscious belief exists: "I am not worthy of receiving love", the person keeps attracting "evidence" that confirms this concept.

In this way, the pattern becomes increasingly entrenched - and will have corresponding effects on the person's life - and often also on his or her body.

Changing the programme

By applying the 'Language of Light', the vibrational frequency of our Aura can be consciously altered; thus, new "scripts" can be formed that permeate all areas of life: we will gradually be able to dissolve deeply rooted harmful patterns in our lives.

The effect of the Language of Light

The surrounding and co-determining energies are transformed in accordance and harmony with cosmic laws. Hereby any negative influence (manipulation) is excluded.

The 'Language of Light' is able to expand the spectrum of individual people's wavelengths and thus also their possibilities of (new) life and (new) experiences.
